To celebrate the gratifying milestone of two centuries of history, the company is now putting back on the market, in a strictly limited edition, the most prestigious product in its range, Maraschino Perla Dry. This Maraschino Luxardo Riserva Speciale was last produced in the distant 1970s. Maraschino Perla Dry has a high alcohol content (40% alc./vol.), a considerably reduced sugar content (hence the term “dry”), and a marasca cherry distillate base more than 50 years old.*

Maraschino Perla Dry Luxardo is marketed in a limited quantity (4,999 numbered bottles) and can be recognized by a restyled original Liberty label and a prestigious gift box, which recalls the customs of high society in the late 19th century.

Characteristics:

- Color: crystal clear
- Aroma: Kirsch eau-de-vie like with strong alcohol spirit (surprisingly so for its abv) with roasted nuttiness and faint smoke.
- Taste: intense, thick and syrupy with sweetness partially offset by fruit tartness. Very strong flavored – concentrated cherry juice and cherry jam with black pepper spice.

Packaging: flask-shaped bottle in antique blue glass with 200 years logo decoration in relief on the neck, hand-wrapped in straw and red capsule, which recalls the first edition of the early 1900s. Liberty label. Eco-leather single gift box containing a booklet on the history of the company and a 200th anniversary pin. Such giftbox comes in a protective casing of fabric bearing the frieze of the 200 years.
