

Cameronbridge 10/09/1992 29757 RR 1st fill PX Brq Vasyrna 07/2249,79%

A very old grain whisky, unusually rich and intense in its flavour profile thanks to a finish for 24 months in a first fill Pedro Ximenez cask which enriched it with sweetness and an intense amber hue. At the nose it shows evident winery sweetness, but quite gentle and flowery too: raisins and plums, but also dried apricots and peaches, chamomile tea and honey. At the palate it's deeply raisiny, but with a lightweight hand: acacia honey, fragrant meadow flowers and herbs, candied orange. It's an extremely smooth whisky, with delicate sweetness that never becomes cloying. Only towards the end, and particularly in the aftertaste, a hint of tannins from the oak appears, with a balsamic dash of camphor and pepper.

Un grain whisky molto invecchiato, insolitamente ricco e intenso come stile grazie a un finish di 24 mesi in una botte di Pedro Ximenez di primo riempimento che l'ha arricchito di dolcezza e di un colore ambra carico. Al naso mostra evidente dolcezza vinosa, ma rimane anche gentile e floreale: uvetta e prugne, ma anche albicocche e pesche essiccate, camomilla e miele. Al palato è profondamente ricco di uvetta, ma con mano leggera: miele d'acacia, fiori ed erbe di campo fragranti, arancia candita. È un whisky estremamente morbido, con una dolcezza delicata che non diventa stucchevole. Solo nel finale, e particolarmente nel retrogusto, appare un accenno di tannini dal legno, con una spruzzata balsamica di canfora e pepe.

RETRO

A very old grain whisky, unusually rich and intense in its flavour profile thanks to a finish for 24 months in a first fill Pedro Ximenez cask. At the nose it shows evident winery sweetness, but gentle and flowery too: raisins and plums, but also dried apricots and peaches, chamomile tea and honey. At the palate it's raisiny, but with a lightweight hand: acacia honey, meadow flowers and herbs, candied orange. Only towards the end, a hint of tannins from the oak appears, with a balsamic dash of camphor and pepper.
