

VINTAGE 1986

COGNAC
GRANDE CHAMPAGNE
40% vol. 70cl

Very few cognacs are made from a single vintage. Most, necessarily, include eaux-de-vie from several vintages and terroirs in order to achieve consistency and balance.

Delamain, however, is one of an exclusive number of houses, authorized to produce Vintage cognacs. Every year small lots of these Vintage cognacs are chosen for bottling, one cask after another when we are certain that they have fulfilled their promise of perfection.

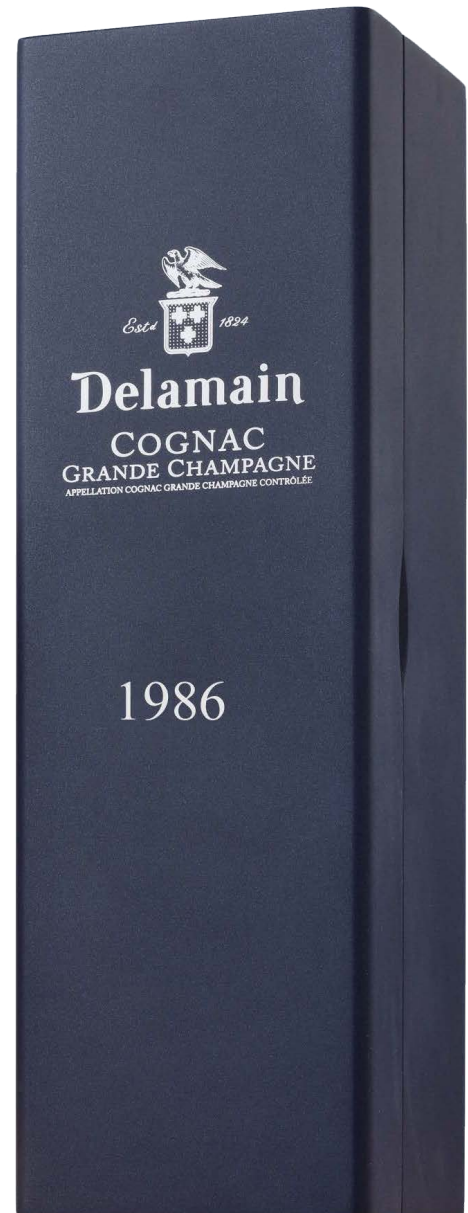

The Delamain Vintage 1986 is a 33 year-old, single vineyard cognac from the historic hilltop village of Bouteville at the heart of the Grande Champagne region. It has been aged in a well-seasoned oak cask to preserve its finesse and elegance.

The 1986 is wonderfully complex and intensely fruity. The small number of bottles from this vintage, will not and cannot ever be replaced.

NOSE : Raisins, apricot, vanilla and almonds.

TASTE : Fruity and rich.

FINISH : Elegant and lingering.
